NEWSPAPER OF THE TWIN CITIES

A new sculpture for the garden

Sculptor Ursula von Rydingsvard stood by Tuesday as her new work, "Three Bowls," was installed in the Minneapolis Sculpture Garden. A crane and workers from the Walker Art Center helped to place the sculpture, which consists of three 9-foot-tall wooden bowls. Von Rydingsvard created the sculpture by carving 4- by 4-inch cedar boards and laminating them together, layer by layer.
